I also tried doing a check on the container using docker run -it -v /Users/[USERNAME]/AppData/Roaming/npm/sketchup-pro-plugins-pack.zip:/sketchup-pro-plugins-pack.zip -i [DOCKER_IMAGE] but this resulted in the same error... .. Reverting configuration and starting over. [--exec] Error running container: 1: no such file or directory [--exec] Error running container: 1: no such file or directory [--exec] Error running container: 1: no such file or directory I'm not sure if it will help but here is a link to the file that the image is looking for. A: I found the problem. I had a separate.zip for the plugin. I looked back through and realized that I had the wrong one. I should have been using this: Instead of this: 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to heating and cooling systems for homes and like structures, and more specifically to such a system in which heating and/or cooling of one or more zones of the home is accomplished by heated or cooled air supplied to a network of thermal zones. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years there has been a great deal of attention directed to energy conservation and the use of renewable energy sources. Renewable energy sources include solar energy, which includes sunlight in the form of the sun's rays, heat, and infrared radiation. However, the most abundant renewable energy source in many locations is wind energy. Wind energy is unlimited and does not deplete. It is known to use wind energy to supply heat to spaces
